

Ordering your GED® Credentials

PURPOSE: To provide instructions on how to order your transcript, diploma, or certificate.

GED credentials are available on the GED website. Keep in mind the following:

- POF • If you are a third party and you want to request transcripts on behalf of individuals, go to the Third party help topic.
- Depending on where you took the GED test, you may only be able to order your transcript. Some jurisdictions will also let you order your diploma and certificate.
- You can send your credentials to any destination. During the ordering process, you will tell us where to send them: to a college, an employer, or yourself, for example.
- If we find you in the system right away, your order will be processed immediately. Sometimes, however, we may have to find you manually. For example, if you took the test many years ago, we might have to locate your paper transcript. Go to the Order on hold help topic.
